HIGH-VISIBILITY STYLES

According to customer design and specifications

From technical specifications to precise cutting

Production starts with careful preparation. Patterns and technical requirements are translated into production-ready components before entering the sewing lines.

01 Pattern & marker preparation

02 Fabric lay preparation

03 Precision cutting

Customer technical packs, reference samples and approved specifications can be integrated into the production workflow.

Industrial sewing. Organized production.

Two production lines are currently in operation, organized for recurring workwear programs. VESTRA is expanding its production capacity with two additional lines.

From individual components to complete garments, production is organized around customer-approved construction and specifications.
